

South Carolina Author Uses Skype to Talk With Readers

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

South Carolina author and former CIA agent Barry Kelly is excited and pleased to tap into today's latest technology to help him better communicate and interact with his readers across the nation. Using Skype, he is now able to talk with book clubs, Rotary clubs, or other organizations via the Internet as if he was right there in the room with them!

"Technology is a powerful tool, much like the written word," says Mr. Kelly. "Through Skype, I am not restricted by distances or travel time in order to connect with and interact with my fans and readers. We can talk and have discussions with just the click of a mouse!"

"Our Skype session with Mr. Kelly was a HIT!" say members of a book club in McLean, Va. "The gals were fascinated and also really enjoyed the book and will follow up on reading more!" The book club read Mr. Kelly's first book, "Justice Beyond Law," and prepared questions ahead of time to ask the author during their Skype session, which they did using an iPad and "passed" the author around so everyone was given a chance to talk with him and ask him a question or two.

If you would like to schedule a Skype interview with Mr. Kelly, contact him directly at davidbarrykelly@hotmail.com or 843-237-3507, or you may get in touch with Star Editing for more information or to set up a future interview. You may also visit Mr. Kelly on Facebook at www.facebook.com/factsandfictions or online at www.factsandfictions.com.

Mr. Kelly is also the author of "Justice without Mercy" and most recently "Shades of Justice," the third book in the Jack Brandon thriller series.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT "JUSTICE BEYOND LAW"

"Barry Kelly has written a book that clasps you into the fold and doesn't let go. As I read this book, I felt I was on the journey to hunt down al-Qaida terrorist cells in the U.S., New Delhi and Kathmandu with Jack Brandon and two ex-CIA women operatives united on a dangerous mission outside the law."

– Susan Berhardt, Amazon.com review

